Sales Surprise: Battery-Electric Cars Are Outselling Plug-In Hybrids

Poring over monthly sales figures for plug-in electric cars--and our six-month summary--the data points out an unexpected fact.

Did you know that pure battery-electric cars actually outsold plug-in cars that also have engines?

From January through June of this year, the combination of 9,839 Nissan Leafs, 882 Mitsubishi i-MiEVs, and approximately 9,400 Tesla Model S cars (plus 1,700-odd compliance cars and others) exceeds the total of 18,335 plug-in hybrids and Chevrolet Volt range-extended electric cars.
